Suicide Prevention Programs and Initiatives

- The Ohio General Assembly allocated funding in both the 2016-17 and 2018-19 biennial budgets to the Ohio Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services (OhioMHAS, <http://bit.ly/1UE1FVv>) to develop comprehensive approaches to decrease Ohio's suicide rate. OhioMHAS works to increase and expand prevention efforts targeting all Ohioans, in particular those who are most at risk; increase capacity of clinicians working within behavioral health and healthcare systems to assist patients at risk for suicide and their families; and develop timely identification of areas of increased need.
- A key partner of OhioMHAS, the Ohio Suicide Prevention Foundation released an updated Strategic Plan 2017-2020 (<http://bit.ly/2GrWGIY>) which focuses on four priority areas: (1) strengthen local coalitions; (2) improve organizational fitness; (3) promote suicidology; and (4) advance evidence-based programs.
- Project AWARE Ohio (<http://bit.ly/2ysFrme>), a partnership among the Ohio Department of Education, the Center for School Based Mental Health Programs at Miami University, and the educational service centers within three pilot counties (Cuyahoga, Warren, and Wood), makes Youth Mental Health First Aid training available statewide at no cost. The Project is funded by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.
- Ohio law (§ 3319.073, the Jason Flatt Act) requires that school boards incorporate training in youth suicide awareness and prevention into the in-service training required for nurses, teachers, counselors, school psychologists, and administrators, and other personnel that the board determines appropriate.
- Ohio law (§ 3345.37) requires institutions of higher education to develop, implement, and post online a policy to advise students and staff of available suicide prevention programs both on and off campus. See <http://suicideprevention.ohio.gov/>.
